

Dear Family Member,

This is a story your child has read at school. Encourage your child to read the story to you, and then talk about it together. The tricky parts of words are underlined in gray. Encourage your child to point with his finger word by word as he reads.

Bug and Frog

Zack and Ann sit next to the pond.

Zack says, "The pond is a lot of fun!

I wish I were a bug."

"Why?" says Ann. "Bugs are no fun."

"Bugs zip and hum" says Zack.

“Frogs hop and splash and munch on bugs,” says Ann.

“I will not wish I was a bug.” Zack quips.

Zack and Ann had fun at the pond.
They will tell Mom and Dad.
